

Authorization to Pay Federal Student Aid for Expenses

Federal student aid regulations allow SDSU to pay federal student aid to the student's SDSU account for tuition, fees, contracted housing/food and other direct educational expenses.

The regulations require the completion of a written authorization to approve or not approve using federal student aid credit balances to pay all other institutional expenses billed to your account.

Check below to indicate your choice:

_____ Yes, I approve using my federal student aid credit balance to pay all other related institutional expenses. I understand that all charges to my account are a direct result of my enrollment with SDSU. Any remaining credit balance after all institutional expenses are paid will be refunded to me by direct deposit or by check. A "Yes" authorization is needed for direct deposit.

_____ No, I do not approve using my federal student aid credit balance to pay all other institutional expenses. I understand that I am responsible to pay these charges. I further understand that SDSU may require non-federal student aid (scholarships, loans, etc) to pay these other charges. Failure to promptly pay these charges will incur late fees, and a registration hold.

This authorization will be used for all periods for which I am enrolled with SDSU.

I understand I must contact the SDSU Financial Aid Office if I choose to change my authorization and I must complete a new authorization form.
