Section 2. Review of Course

2.1. Was the course first offered as an experimental course? Yes No

2.2. Will this be a unique or common course?

Unique Course

Prefix & No.	Course Title	Credits
AIS 422	Issues in Contemporary Indian Life	3
AIS 362	Indigenous Feminism	3

Provide explanation of differences between proposed course and existing system catalog courses below:

There is no equivalent of this course in the BOR system that specifically addresses American Indian activism. Other related courses include AIS 422 and AIS 362. AIS 422, offered by BHSU and NSU, focuses on contemporary American Indian life including inquiry into government policies, economics, and social adjustment to non-Indian society, and cultural changes as these relate to Indian citizens on and off the reservation. AIS 362, offered by SDSU, examines feminism in indigenous communities around the world through the study of the personal and communal experiences of indigenous women. The proposed course AIS/HIST 367 will focus on American Indian activism in Indigenous homelands delving into the use of legal strategies, media messaging, direct action, and coalition building.
