Section 1. Existing Course Title and Description

Prefix & No.	Course Title	Credits
PHYS 185	Introduction to Astronomy I	2-3
PHYS 185L	Introduction to Astronomy I Lab	0-1

Course Description
This is a descriptive course that introduces students to solar system astronomy. Emphasis is placed on the development of astronomy, optical instruments and techniques, and solar system objects.

PHYS 185L Course Description
This laboratory accompanies PHYS 185.

Section 2. Modification(s) Requested

2.1. This modification will include:

- PHYS 185
- Course Title change from Introduction to Astronomy I to Solar System Astronomy
- PHYS 185L
- Course Title change from Introduction to Astronomy I Lab to Solar System Astronomy Lab

Note – PHYS 185-185L is included on the SGR #6 approved course list. A clerical revision will be needed to update the course title.

Effective term of the change: Fall 2021

Dear Colleagues:

After much discussion amongst us, we have agreed to the following course name changes. Please respond to this message to indicate your approval of these changes.

PHYS 185-Solar System Astronomy
PHYS 185L-Solar System Astronomy Laboratory
PHYS 187-Stars, Galaxies, and Cosmology
PHYS 187L-Stars, Galaxies, and Cosmology Laboratory

Further, we (USD, DSU, BHSU, and SDSU) should each try to submit a Minor Course Modification to our respective Academic Affairs Offices, let's say by Monday morning, so they should be received by BOR at roughly the same time and be processed together.
