1. Purpose

This policy and its procedures identify the instructional requirements of using the approved course management system in teaching.

2. Policy

At present, the approved course management system is Desire2Learn, or D2L. To fully support teaching and learning, the syllabus and instructor contact information are required to be posted on D2L for all courses by the first day of each semester in which the course is taught. By using D2L, faculty members meet FERPA requirement regarding appropriate dissemination of student information.

3. Procedures

a. Instructional Design Services will open courses in D2L according to the University semester schedule.

b. Prior to the first day of the semester, faculty will post a current syllabus (using University Getting Started widget) and enter contact information including office hours (using University Course Info widget). This is considered a minimum and posting other course materials is encouraged.

c. Instructional Design Services (“IDS”) will track faculty who log onto D2L by the end of the second week of classes and generate a list of courses where the faculty member has logged in.

d. This list of courses, organized by college, will be shared with college deans who will monitor courses and follow up with those departments whose courses are lacking a D2L presence. Department heads will work directly with faculty.

e. If warranted, faculty will submit requests for exceptions to the department head.

f. Department head will submit list of all exceptions to the college dean for approval.
g. Continuing exceptions may be requested for the following courses:
   i. X91 Independent Study
   ii. 498 UG Research/Scholarship
   iii. 788 Master’s Research Problem/Project
   iv. 789 Master’s Research Problem/Project Sustaining
   vii. Zero credit labs linked to credit-bearing courses viii. Others as identified and approved by college deans

4. Responsible Administrator

   The Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs, successor, or designee is responsible for bi-annual and ad hoc review of this policy and its procedures. The University President is responsible for approval of modifications to this policy and its procedures.
